BUSINESS INTERESTS AND POLITICS. What guarantees can the democrati party give the commercial, mercantile, agricultural and manufacturing interests of the country for the maintenance of the thoroughly sound basis of values that republican polity has established? This is a question upon which it behooves every honest solvent business man, every industrious laborer in every state of the union, to ponder well, since any unsettlement of national finance-blended as it is with the interests of every man who owns a dollar or a dollar's worth of property, or who hopes to carn the one or acquire the other by honest toil-must necessarily involve all labor and enterprise in a condition of misery and disaster which it may take long years to retrieve.

The enormous expenditures which were required for the preservation of the union CHASE, colored, of this city, and others made and the suppression of an entirely demo eratic rebellion created a debt that would W. FAIRFAX to congress in the first conhave produced a condition of state and national bankruptcy, and been destructive of all our wealth and industry, had not repullican statesmanship devised our present financial system-a system founded amid the chaos of the rebellion, and maintained and built up by the republican party to its present wonderful stability and grandeur, despite the assaults of northern democracy during that rebellion and the combined and unremitting assaults of northern and southern democracy since its suppression This financial system is founded upon the pledged faith of the nation to deal honestly and fairly with its creditors. How sternly disturb republican unity and harmony and and unflinchingly and successfully the republican party has maintained this pledge We have no sympathy with men who. for twenty years against every democratic claiming to be republicans, give aid and attempt to violate it, the political history of the country, our wonderful development of wealth, and the present general prosper- such politicians. ity abundantly testify.

The national debt, while forced upon us by democracy, was honestly and honorably incurred for the preservation of the union, so that "the government of the people, for men who supplied the sinews of war to our armies of American freemen who volum teered for the preservation of that government to pay to the uttermost farthing, in honest dollars, the debt incurred. No creditor of the nation has lost a dollar. Its promises to pay are everywhere worth their face value in coin, and the national treasury has resumed specie payments, and made resumption universal in spite of democratic opposition, obstructions and predictions of financial disasters to all business interests

if resumption were attempted. Fluctuations in the value of our currency and apprehensions of business disasters therefrom no longer binder our merchants, manufacturers, importers, capitalists and armies of industrial laborers and producers or render them nervous in their industrial and business enterprises. The honest laborer's toil is requited with honest dollars. The faith of the nation, pledged and maintained by the republican party, is redeemed; prosperity is universal wherever peace and industry prevails, and plenty smiles on honest labor under a government which repuballow to perish from the earth. The redone to humanity by the party which main-tained the system of human slavery. We have been true to the union, true to the The questions on which these demoschools and churches are supported, where the free expression of opinion is allowed, where public honesty is characteristic of the regular content of the regula the people, where repudiation of public debts and pleiges is unknown, where no charred and blackened rulus of school-houses and churches attest the hostility of the governing classes to education and the character, but both factions units on Hancock. morality and bonesty which is so charac-Antional Republican. morally and bonesty which is so character De Gol Xen matter, long after the judge teristic not only of the southern, but also has declared, and is known it, that the of the northern democracy, makes the demomtic party the congenial political asylum of all the degraded, immoral and disturbing elements of American society. The southern repudiationists and their half cannot injure General Ganffeld as is insufficient to the show, it is claimed, 4,000 and 3,000 increases show, it is claimed, 4,000 and state and municipal debts; the idle and which is as safe from injury as an andissolute, the loafers of our city slums, the | tiquated egg. buildozers, the ballot-box stuffers and the political assassins of the south are invariably found rallying to the standard of democracy; and it is they who lead and give tone to the entire political organization. The better element of the party is small and spiritless and cannot control its policy, which is merely a rush for office and an unestrained desire for unbridled license and public plunder

It requires no keen prophetic eye to see the terrible consequences that must necessarily follow if such a political organization, ontrolled by the worst and most dangerous lements of society, should succeed in its efforts to obtain supremacy over our affairs. It would be madness to suppose that our resent prosperity could survive the shock of the unsettlement of values which would usue from the overthrow of our present financial system-considering the plunderng of the treasury and the payment of hundred of millions of fraudulent and unenstitutional claims as minor evils, which the industries of the north might survive. what, and how far-reaching, and how irretrievable would be an attack upon our well maintained system of finance and currency and the overthrow of our present fixed standard of value? Every intelligent busicess man who desires to live honorably, to njure nobody and to render to each man what is honestly his due, should know, if be does not already know, that it would be an act of national insanity to intrust the reins of government to the democratic party-a party bound by every immoral and dishonest influence which could shape the course of an unprincipled political organization to unsettle our currency. THE FIRST VIRGINIA DISTRICT. On last Saturday the colored republicans at Lecsburg were sober, discreet and proper, though very enthusiastic in their conduct throughout, while the bourbous are reported to have been uncontrollable, so thoroughly were they imbued with the spirit of corn and hop juice. It is gratifying to know that the colored population of that ancient town have se their bourbon neighbors a most excellent example of sobriety and well-ordered conduct. May they profit by it when they have another democratic demonstration, and be sure and keep their heads level. Even the democratic speakers and managers complain that their audience got so far beside themselves that they applauded the wrong sentiment and just at the most unfortunate moment for proper effect. Our Information from the fourth concressional district of Virginia gives the fullest assurance that Mr. JORGENSEN WIll oe returned congress without a peradventure. Should three candidates enter the field it will render assurance doubly sure, and should there be but two candidates later in the fall. then the result will be quite as certain, for a large proportion of those known as readjusters will in that case vote for Mr. J. rather than identify themselves in any degree with the bourbons, whose organs have declared that they would vote for any candidate sooner than one of the readjuster

It is understood that the name of Hon. HENRY VAN ARRNAM of the thirty-third congressional district of New York will be presented to the district convention for renomination and re-election, for in that stalwart district a nomination is equivalent to an election. Mr. VAN AERNAM is one please on their own responsibility, but they of those faithful, untiring representatives will not be permitted, while we control its whose services are invaluable to his concolumns, to direct the influence of THE stituents. A renomination will be creditable alike to himself and his district.

THE democrats are studying soft places low. They should find one on which to alight in November, for their fall will be heavy-very heavy for so light a party.

POLITICAL NOTES.

"On a fool's errand "-greenbackers canassing in Alabama.

ENGLISH is beginning to threaten the news papers with libel suits for publishing that list of 800 workmen's houses taken under fore closures of mor gages. ROBERT TOOMES, Ben Hill, Dr. Miller, Dr.

To Stephens has not decided vet.

It is said that the majority in the Georgia democratic state convention offered the antifrom a temporary union of incongruous Colquitt minority the privilege of naming all at 25 CENTS PER PAIR. the state officers if they would accept Col-THOSE Washington democrats who do not meet Judge Black early on his return from Paris to see if he cannot make a change. There is very great dissatisfaction, and it is growing. In an effort to explain away Wade Hampton's Staunton speech, the Charleston (S. C.) News says of the southern people: "They have no secret aims or objects. If they had somebody would be sure to blurt them out." This KELLY, the New York factionists, embraced is not elegant, but it seems to describe pre-

SENATOR BUTLER of South Carolina says that short work ought to be made with greenbackers, nationals and independents generally. If they persist in opposing the demo-cratic party they should be kicked into the radical party and dealt with accordingly. It needless to say there are not many indesendents in South Carolina.

ROBERT TOOMES is not favorably impressed by General Gordon's assertion that he could not live in Washington on a senator's salary of $5,000 a year. Toombs says that he could live on $1,500, that he has boarded in Washington at $10 a week with such men as Clay and Crittenden for fellow-boarders, and that any man he ought to be willing to live on potatoes if ne-CERRITY.

THE STUFFED CENSUS.

South Carolina Overdoes It as Usual. A correspondent of the Providence Journal writes us follows from Charleston, S. C .: I desire to call your attention to the fraud that is being perpetrated on the whole country that is being perpetrated on the whole country in the matter of the census. If not exposed now the wrong can not be remedied for ten years to come. A gain of thirty-five per cent. In a state that has had no immigration whatever during the last ten years, and from which more people have gone than have come, is incredible. You will perceive that it is not a full return, being but twenty-three out of thirty-three counties of the state. The counties omitted are all very small counties. of political assassinations.

There may have been a few honest, conscientious men who adhered to the democratic party in the northern states during the rebellion, but certainly they were too small in numbers to have any controlling or any to speak. The rich spoils and with the exception of two, which are doubtful, are strong republican counties. There can be no doubt that the purpose of keeping back the returns of ten cratic party of that state for thirty years.

A party thus demoralized in its strong responsing or greater increase may be fixed here. I will simply call your attention to a few of the counties referred to in the editocounty is in a wilderness, and not a railroad in it, and has an increase of 50 per cent.; Lex-ington, a sandy, sterile county, an increase of ington, a sandy, sterile county, an increase of 50 per cent; Mariboro', a county away from railrowds, with nothing to attract any one, an increase of 52 per cent; but the fraud is so palpable that any one may see it. That the same thing has been done in the other southern states, there is good reason to believe. The south will show, according to these returns, as great an increase as the great northwest. Is it to be wondered at now why the southern brigadiers fought so hard for the census supervisors? President Hayes, on being informed by myself of "the plan," thought it would not be attempted, but that if it was, said he would order the census taken over. If it is not order the census taken over. If it is not taken over, and honestly taken, the whole north will be overwhelmed by fraudulent counts in consus-taking as well as in elections. You will also perceive that there has been no increase either in the cities of Charleston or Columbia, while in the north and west the principal increase has been in the cities. Will the country submit? I hope not.

Stanley Matthews' Good Fortune. Some of the interest which the Hon, Stanley Matthews feels in the home of his aucestors he expresses by an annual subscription to the 'Royal Association for Promotion of the Fin Arts in Scotland."

The plan of operating the association is to apply the bulk of the funds obtained by subscriptions of from one guines upward anamally to the purchase of modern works of art manly to the purchase of modern works of art in painting, drawing or statuary, and to the execution or purchase of engravings, etchings, bronzes, bas-reliefs, models or other produc-tions of art, which are then distributed by lot among the subscribers. Mr. Matthews first began four years ago and received a prompt pal prizes, an oil painting valued at £126. It is entitled "November," and is the work of George Reid, member of the Royal Scottish academy. Reid's specialty is portrait draw-ing, but he does occasionally landscapes, gen-erally, it is said, in the manner of the Dutch chool of which he is a disciple. He was a pupil of Mollinger, and lives in Aberdeen, his native city. The picture is now on exhibition in Edinburgh, and will not be sent here till
